Diorama Tower Defense: Tiny Kingdom is a strategy game based on the popular defense genre. Bring a stronghold up on Diorama Tower Defense: Tiny Kingdom. As Diorama Tower Defense: Tiny Kingdom, you have an independent tower defense game. However, it also offers huge customization options. You can build either a stadium or a small castle, you can put as many towers as you like on the map, as well as place multiple storylines on the map. These make up the story of the game, as some towers will be fighting to protect objects, while others will need to protect the locals. You can change the storyline by going to a configuration menu in the options menu. This also unlocks new tower types that can be bought or built. In Diorama Tower Defense: Tiny Kingdom, your goal is simple – protect your stronghold. But as you proceed in the game, you will be able to improve, with more towers, challenge level, and region size. Key Features Permanent storyline and new units - every fortress has a story and needs new units to protect it, build new buildings, and engage with your enemies Good unit stats - a good tower will enable it to withstand numerous enemies, and be able to attack more than once per turn Multiple themes - play a DJ party, a picnic, snow and fire, victory, kids, Christmas, Halloween, all in one region Options - level editor, global map editor, option to include all your towers on the map, and more Players can play multiplayer games, very easy and fast Highly customizable options - every tower you build and every unit you equip to it can be customized via a configuration menu. This includes specific unit actions such as hit points, number of turns and kills, cast speed, re-spawn time, and much more High replay value - as the game has its own storyline and permanent units, it has become a massive strategy game with constant updates. As well as tower defense, you can also go in a combat role and engage in fights with enemies, as well as get them to fight for you. (Not all gameplay is in this soundtrack!) 1. "The Dungeon of the Old Gods", 2. "Epic Battle with the High Summoner", 2. "The Great Summoning", 2. "The Dungeon of Nexxus", 3. "The Dungeon of the Old Gods - Part 2", 4. "The Dungeon of Nexxus - Part 2", 5. "Epic Battle with the High Summoner - Part 2", 6. "Memoir of a Hero", 6. "The Trial of Gwynne", 7. "Pagan Kingdom" The "Celtreos Collection" Soundtrack is the perfect complement to the original "Celtreos Demo" on the Amiga and to the "Celtreos Shortcut Kit" on the C64. The Amiga version contains a Demo of the original game as well. Each of the 15 tracks in the Amiga version represents a sequence in the game, from the easy Inn sequence to the hard Mode 5 dungeon sequence and back to the easy Inn sequence. The 16 tracks in the C64 version contain full sequences from the game, as well as a small number of other sequences featuring additional music. For most players, the C64 version will contain a nice variety of the more interesting and challenging music, with the Amiga version being the "off the beaten path" choice. While the game itself may not be that exciting, the music is! The full soundtrack is rare, and in some cases unheard, on CD. Most of the music was composed, with some bonus music by Martin Lee, by David Whittaker, who also composed for Interplay's Dungeon Master, the legendary game where you had to guide a captured princess through the castle. The soundtrack is available now from Amiga Music. Amiga Music (UK). Amiga Music (US). Further information is available at Amiga Music's website. Mastered by Sielverin Media Ltd. and published by Sielverin Media Ltd. in Limited edition of 1000. Sielverin Media Ltd. is a new, independently owned, record label based in the north east of England. Sielverin Media Ltd.

is a music label that has been established by music enthusiast Chris; a man with a passion for music, heavy metal, and motor sport. Chris' company is built on the bedrock of that passion. Check out this game here: Oracle name: OpenStack version: 6.0.2

Summer 2018 is nearly over! Shortly after hosting the closing Q&A event of the 2015 tiers, we began making plans for the next release. We discussed things like making new classes, adding restocks, rearranging things on the main toolbar, polishing things up, etc. For example, we discussed the need to remove some classes from the main toolbar and replace them with more useful classes. We also discussed the need to make the shop filter squishier, just in general adding/changing/shortening things. But above that, we also discussed how useful a tier would be. How about monthly updates to be added to a tier (we would get these free to facilitate)? What if at the end of the year we had most of the tiers ready but were now talking about a donationware tier? We didn't know, and from our perspective it was all a bit of a pipe dream to want to do another tier. However, there is a reason for this. Our friend Sam took us to see a classic house party cartoon, Duck Tales. Yes, I am aware of the irony of my theme going to a "cartoon" to praise it...but look on the bright side! It sorta makes it a Duck Dynasty experience rather than a Boba Fett one! It's a funny duck cartoon! So this is our third tier, Floaty Flatmates. A tier named by our writer Dan (I can't remember if I asked him to pick a name or he wanted to be known as a schmoe). Sam and I liked this name from the start, and started talking about it and planning classes. There was one main question: should we have any tanks, and if so, what should they be? It was light but high priority. There were two places to start. We talked about not using the three Parthans that exist as some of our highly prized and expensive DLC. Also, we wanted to introduce new tankable vehicles, but those would have to fall outside of the existing three (and pay the price for lacking in balance for that tier). The core of what we wanted was a choice of 8 tankable vehicles. This would dovetail nicely with the Steam Trade Data, which we wanted to release alongside. Sam shared a link to something in a Usunastudio page that demonstrated a U-TDA-powered calculator that would allow us to quickly calculate fuel and time. This
